ANDERSON AND BOTTS WIN; SINGLE TAX SWAMPED AND SUNDAY AMUSEMENTS FAIL

Springs Polls Unusually Tight Vote, Following Campaign of Varied Phases

Voters Pile Up Big Majority on Proposed Single Tax Amendment, Beating Plan 7 to 1; Double Platoon System Carries by 752 Votes

Though it was necessary to canvass second and other choice votes, through some peculiar trick of fate they failed to materially change the relative standings in the various candidates, and Perry Botts and W. A. Anderson were elected commissioners of public health and sanitation and public works and property, respectively, at the municipal election yesterday, by pluralities approximately the same as those polled on first-choice totals. Out of a total vote of 7,966, Botts polled 3,508, giving him a plurality over Dr. B. B. Grover of 878 and over Willet R. Willis of 1,281. Anderson polled a total of 3,352 out of 7,874, giving him a plurality of 1,287 over Charles N. Wheeler and 1,492 over E. G. Paster. The vote was exceptionally light, being estimated at about 70 per cent of normal.

Seven to One in Single Tax.
Single Tax, as was expected, was defeated by a majority of more than seven to one, the vote being 7,083 against to 837 for. In no precinct were more than a few votes cast for the measure, though the vote was scattered. The ratio was from five to 20 to one.

The Sunday amusement ordinance was defeated by a majority of 1,470, the vote being 3,192 for and 4,662 against. The opposition proved to be stronger than expected and the decisive majority shows that the liquor ordinance attached to the same measure two years ago, did not have much to do with the defeat at that time. It also seems to be a definite expression of the people as to whether or not they want Sunday amusements. The eleventh-hour fight against the double platoon system for the fire department came near causing its defeat, the measure carrying by a majority of but 752. The vote was 4,040 for and 3,288 against. One precinct remains to be heard from on both this measure and the Sunday amusement ordinance, but it is understood that in both cases the contest is close.

Preferential Didn't Change Result.
In view of the widespread discussion and speculation for some weeks preceding the election, the most interesting feature was the peculiar working of the preferential system of voting, whereas in every other city in which it has been tried it has invariably resulted in the election of an unexpected, or not undesirable, candidate, here it had just the opposite effect. Both the second and other-choice votes were necessary to effect an election, there being no majorities, and the successful ones going into office on a plurality vote, but neither changed the relative standings of the various contestants, each polled a proportionate number of second and other choices.
This is explained by the timidity with which electors approached the second and other-choice votes. Comparatively few took advantage of the opportunity to cast their ballot for more than one candidate for each of the two offices. Though, fortunately, the number was sufficiently large to make possible an election. The preferential system, however, yet remains untried. It

Jeffers Close to Grover.

Jeffers proved the surprise in the race for commissioner of health and sanitation, polling a total of 2,177, but 50 votes less than Grover. Botts' plurality was gained from most all precincts, however, and while both Grover and Jeffers ran close, they never seemed to seriously threaten to overcome the present commissioner.

Though Botts polled a heavier vote than Anderson, his plurality was smaller by 400 or so. Anderson maintained a big lead over Wheeler, Paster and Schmidt in all precincts except the several on the West Side and in the South End, the West Side being the home precincts of the other candidates. At no time during the count, however, did it seem that his plurality was in danger. The total votes, all choices, of the other candidates opposing him: Wheeler, 2,065; Paster, 1,860; Schmidt, 1,660. Contrary to conditions apparent during the early part of the campaign, there seemed to be but little interest in the single tax amendment. Single taxers were out in force, but the opposition displayed but little enthusiasm on the whole. The result was a foregone conclusion, even the proponents of the measure admitting some time before election that they had no chance. The majority against the new system of taxation far exceeded the expectations of many, but scarcely came up to the expectation of the early count, when it seemed that the thing was doomed more than 10 to 1. The overwhelming majority would seem to indicate that the single tax idea has been killed for some years, anyway.

Interest in Sunday Amusements.
Most interest was displayed in the proposed Sunday amusement ordinance. The opposition got out almost a complete vote. The fate of the bill was known shortly after the count began. (Continued on Page Three)

Manitou Election Is Formality With One Ticket in Field

The spring election in Manitou yesterday was a mere formality, the city being Republican and putting out one ticket for the field. There was no contest for places, each candidate being assured office. William R. Kirby was re-elected mayor. A. R. Hutchinson, clerk and Miss Victoria Walker, treasurer. The trustees elected for two years were F. W. McArthur, L. K. Van Housen and H. H. Griffin. The total vote polled was very light. It being estimated at not more than 15 per cent of the whole. Little interest was taken in the election.

SUNSHINE ON THE MORNING AFTER WAY CLEARED FOR REPUBLICANS AND 'DRYS' MAKE EITEL'S ESCAPE SWEEP IN MANY CITY CONTESTS

U. S. WARSHIP CLEARED FOR ACTION Fleet of Allied Ships Waiting Outside Harbor for the German Sea Raider

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., April 6.—Shortly before midnight tonight everything appeared to be in readiness for the German auxiliary cruiser, Prinz Eitel Friedrich to leave the Newport News ship yard.

Collector of Customs Hamilton, who had visited the Eitel during the evening, was given a joyful farewell by the officers. The first officer invited him to stay aboard, saying, "I wish you would remain and go with us."

Commander Thierghens, it was learned, had had farewell to American government officials in his visits today to the battleship Alabama, and to the customs house. The collector in turn wished the German commander and his officers bon voyage.

At 1 o'clock tonight Admiral Reilly, commandant at the Norfolk navy yard, transmitted a radiogram to the customs house here. Collector Hamilton remained at his office waiting developments. Attacks of the office were kept in touch with the German ship as clearly as possible. That no one knew exactly what were the plans of the German commander seemed apparent.

A newspaper boat which steamed up the river, the only point from which the raider could be seen, was not picked up by the German cruiser's search lights as had been the case on previous occasions. On board there appeared to be activity, but there were few lights and ports were heavily curtained.

U. S. Ships Clear Way.
NEWPORT NEWS, Va., April 6.—The way for the German merchant raider Prinz Eitel Friedrich to leave Newport News was cleared today by the United States government.
Orders were given to pilots and to the merchant ship of any belligerent enemy of Germany out of Norfolk and Newport News until further notice. The order went into effect about 11 o'clock today, following a direction by British authorities last night to British captains not to clear their ships after noon of any day while the Eitel is at the wharf in doubt.

Thompson Elected Mayor of Chicago by Biggest Plurality in History of City; Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin Swat Saloon

CHICAGO, April 6.—William Hale Thompson was elected mayor of Chicago today by an estimated plurality of 130,000. Returns from 1,400 precincts out of 1,566 early tonight indicated that he had carried the entire Republican city ticket to victory.

Women voted for the first time at a mayoral election in Chicago and incomplete returns showed that the relative percentages of men and women votes received by Thompson and Robert Sweitzer, the defeated Democratic candidate, were approximately the same.

About 55 per cent of the three-quarters of a million votes registered were cast. According to election officials this would set a record.

Some wards hitherto strongly Democratic were carried by the Republican candidate and Sweitzer's own precinct was carried by Thompson.

Concede Republican Victory.
Sweitzer and his managers conceded the election to the Republicans early in the evening and congratulated Thompson.

"My first official move," said Thompson, "will be to have my chief of police drive the pickpockets and thieves out of Chicago."

The Socialist vote, apparently smaller than predicted by party leaders. The returns indicated that the total Socialist vote would not exceed 20,000. The prohibition party candidate, John Hill, ran far behind the Socialist candidate, Samuel Steadman.

In a close primary contest, Thompson won from Harry Olson, chief justice of the municipal court, by a plurality of 7,508. Sweitzer defeated Mayor Harrison by a plurality of 79,184.

Thompson was born in Boston, Mass., in 1868 and was brought to Chicago by his parents in the following year. In a biographical sketch which he issued prior to the election he stated that as a boy he sold newspapers and later went to Wyoming and worked as a cowboy and a brakeman. He received much of his education in the public schools and later entered Yale university.

He is a dealer in real estate, having succeeded to the business of his father, who died wealthy.

Beats Harrison's Record.
Thompson's plurality of 130,000 was the highest ever polled in a mayoralty contest. The nearest approach before was in 1887 when Carter H. Harrison polled 125,000 more votes than John Maynard Harlan, the Republican candidate.

Eleven of 12 propositions on a three-day ballot were approved, the only defeat being the retention of a civil service system for the fire department by voting "yes" on the other three.

Spokane, Wash., April 6.—A total of $2,572,000 and a record for a single day, according to the city's figures, was being realized by the city's sale of more than 200 square miles.

The indications were that the next record would be set by the city of Spokane, Wash., when it sold 300 square miles of land to the city of Spokane, Wash., when it sold 300 square miles of land to the city of Spokane, Wash.

AUSTRIAN ATTEMPT TO TRAP RUSSIANS IN THE EAST DISMAL FAILURE.

Plans to Repeat Tannenburg Incident Miscarries When the Slavs Turn Tables

Muscovites Continue to Press Onward Toward Hungarian Interior; Allies in West Waiting on Outcome of Eastern Struggle; Germans Caught Between Two Fires

PETROGRAD, April 6 (via London).—Dispatches from Chotin received here tell of the development and failure of extensive Austrian operations in Bukovina, near the Russian frontier, by which the Austrians hoped to achieve a coup similar to the German feat of cutting off the Russian army corps during the last advance into East Prussia.

The Austrians, it is said, attempted a lightning advance in two directions from Czernowitz, which was used as a base. The first of these, striking northward to Zaleszyky, to the west of the Russian frontier, attempted an encircling maneuver, while the other group proceeded direct to Chotin, across the Russian border.

Thus, by exerting pressure from the north and west, the Austrians hoped to catch the Russian left flank along the river Dniester in a vice, cutting them off from their main forces. Three divisions, covering the advance, and one-half Austrian columns were employed in these maneuvers.

Austrians Win at First.

The preliminary northward movement of the first Austrian group was successful in repulsing the Russians occupying Sadagura, a village six miles north of Czernowitz, and they moved on two parallel roads toward the Russian frontier. In the meantime, the second group reached a point on the right bank of the Dniester, seven miles from the Russian border. Thence an Austrian brigade of cavalry, 1,000 men, moved on to Chotin.

Chotin, which is a small town, was captured in small numbers, but the Austrians engaged them in a fierce battle, driving the Russians from the frontier.

Despite the failure of the direct attacks upon Chotin, the Austrians continued to develop the encircling movement, attacking the Russian fortifications, covering the Dniester, near Zaleszyky. Although the Austrian offensive in this region is still continuing, it is regarded here, in view of the retreat of the other group from Chotin, that the success of the venture is not likely.

Allies Waiting on Eastern Border.

LONDON, April 6.—Although the French are conducting a sustained and somewhat formidable offensive between the Meuse and the Moselle in an effort to dislodge the Germans from St. Mihiel, the demeanor of the allied armies as a whole indicates a disposition to await the outcome of Russia's gigantic plan to force the Carpathian barrier.

Germany is thought to be pouring troops into Hungary, even to the extent of weakening her forces in Flanders, and tonight's Austrian official communication notes the presence and renews the success of German and Austrian troops in the Lahn valley.

There is less talk in England of the spring advance of the allies in France and Belgium, and an increasing appreciation of the task Russia is attempting. This leads to the belief in some quarters that the leaders of the allied armies in the west, reckoning on the heavy cost incident to smashing the German line there, may perhaps seek only to hold their ground in the belief that the Russians will succeed in invading Hungary, ultimately to join hands with the allied forces working northward through Serbia.

Means Heavy Sacrifice.

Thus, what their opponents regard as the weakest of the Tannenberg allies, Austro-Hungary, would be invaded without the loss of life that an attempt to drive the Germans from France and Belgium would entail.

The assertions of Petrograd are not borne out by the Austrian official statement, which declares that in conjunction with German forces, the Austrians have captured two strong positions on the border east of the Lahn valley and repulsed strong Russian attacks in nearby Serbia, capturing 7,500 prisoners. In addition, Vienna says that on the Dniester river two Russian battalions have been annihilated.

The north in Poland, only Austro-Hungary is going on in the vicinity of the East Prussian frontier.

Meanwhile, it is argued, the hardening of the German line will be continued as the shortest of the most costly method of reaching Turkey. The belief that Smyrna has again been bombarded and official confirmation of the capture of some from the Lahn valley is taken by some to mean that important operations are under way, the details of which later will be made known.

British forces in a capture of Worm Rad, German Southwest Africa, as it is called, have taken what is considered the southern capital and the headquarters of the railway system. Excluding active military operations, the questions of munitions and alcohol

INDUSTRIAL BILLS REACH GOVERNOR BY FRIDAY NOON

House and Senate Speeding Up So Assembly Can Adjourn Saturday

DENVER, April 6.—Drafting of the enactment reached by the house and senate conference committee on industrial legislation was completed and signed today by the members of the committee. Assembly leaders predicted that the bulk in essentially the form recommended by the committee would be in the hands of the governor for signature by Friday noon.

Consideration of appropriation measures and minor bills occupied the attention of both houses during the day. The sessions were marked by the usual rush to complete the enactment of a large number of measures before final adjournment tomorrow.

In furtherance of this plan, the house adopted the method of reading several bills in unison, also applying one roll call to all bills read.

In the senate, the reading clerk was kept busy continually and at times other senate business was also expedited.

The tie-up in the senate and the bill reducing the mill levy for the use of the board of capital managers, is the subject of considerable concern on the part of Governor Colfax. The bill, containing the mill levy for several state institutions was passed in a rush with the understanding that the governor would not be asked to sign it. The effect of failure to pass the bill, however, would be to discontinue the entire program of financial legislation.

United States Senator Albert Cummings of Iowa was a visitor in the house and senate today. The house tendered him a short reception. Both the house and the senate held night sessions. The house considered the long appropriation bill carrying $1,500,000 which is approximately $210,000 less than the bill enacted by the previous general assembly.

GERMANY CANNOT CARRY ON WAR MUCH LONGER

French Report Analyzes Situation in All Its Phases; Allies' Guns Are Superior to Kaiser's Artillery, It Is Claimed

LONDON, March 27 (Correspondence of the Associated Press).—Further instalments of the French official review of the French army after six months of war have been obtained by the Associated Press. The sixth instalment deals with material, artillery transport and supplies, and the seventh instalment takes up the situation of the German army and makes an analysis of the German forces in the field and available for service.

Beginning with the field gun, the famous "75," the compiler of the report, after rehearsing the splendid qualities of this weapon, its power, its rapidity of action and its precision, points out that it possesses a degree of strength and endurance which make an implement of war of the first order. "It may be stated without hesitation," says the review, "that our '75' guns are in as perfect condition today as they were on the first day of the war, although the use made of them has exceeded all calculations. The consumption of projectiles was, in fact, so enormous as to cause for a moment an ammunition crisis, which, however, was completely overcome several weeks ago.

Fresh Munitions of War.
"The methodical and complete exploitation of all the resources of the country," continues the review, "organised since the beginning of the war, has enabled us to accumulate a considerable stock of fresh munitions and an increasing rate of production is henceforth assured. We are thus sure of being able to provide without particular effort for all the needs of the campaign, present and future, however long the war may last, and it is this certainty which has enabled us to supply projectiles to several of the allied armies, among others, to the Serbian and Belgian armies. From the statements of German prisoners, we have learned that the effectiveness of our new projectiles is superior to that of the old ones.

"Our heavy artillery was in process of reorganization when the war broke out, with the result that we were indisputably in position of inferiority in respect of caliber during the first battles. But today the roles have been changed and our adversaries themselves acknowledge the superiority of our heavy artillery.

"The change has been brought about in various ways, partly by the intense activity of the cannon foundries in new production, partly by the employment at the front of the enormous reserves of artillery preserved in the fortresses. The very large number of heavy guns at the front represents only a part of the total number available for use.

Big Stock of Projectiles.
"There is an abundant stock of projectiles for the heavy artillery, which, as in the case of the field gun ammunition, is daily growing of more importance. The same is true of the reserves of powder and other explosives and of all materials needed for the manufacture of shells.

"With regard to small arms, hand grenades, bombs and all the devices for life taking, which the trench warfare at short distance has brought into use, the position of the French troops is in every way favorable."

Then follows a passage on the development of the machine gun in this line of warfare.

"Owing to the extended use of this weapon the number of them supplied to the various units has been appreciably increased," says the review. "Not only is each unit in possession of its full regulation complement of machine guns, but the number of these guns attached to each unit has been increased since February 1 by one-third."

The report next passes to the transport service which it says has worked with remarkable precision since the beginning of the war. This section of the review closes by referring to food supplies for the army which are described as abundant.

Review of German Situation.
In the seventh section, the official review turns to a discussion of the situation of the German army. Its first chapter, headed "The German effort," opens with a statement as to the German forces at the commencement of the campaign. The writer says:

"The military effort of Germany at the outset of the campaign exceeded all anticipations. Her design was to crush the French army in a few weeks under a tremendous mass of troops. Nothing was neglected to bring that mass together.

"The number of German army corps in time of peace is 25. When war began the German general staff put in the field on the two theaters of operation: (1) As fighting troops (active) 15 army corps and 16 army corps. (2) As troops to guard communications of the landward front, 10 army corps. In October six and a half new army corps made their appearance, plus a division of sailors in all seven corps. From the end of November to the end of December there was only an insignificant increase consisting of one division of sailors. In January, 1915, the number of fighting formations put into line by the German army was 30 army corps, divided as follows:

"Active Corps Twenty-five and a half.
"Reserve Corps Five and a half.
"Infantry brigades Six and a half.
"Reserve corps of new formation Seven and a half.
"Corps of Landwehr Eight and a half.
"The immense effort thus made by Germany explains itself very well," says the writer, "if, having regard to the position of Germany at the opening of the war, one considers that of the allies Germany desired to take advantage of the circumstances which enabled her to make simultaneous mobilization of all her forces, a mobilization which the three allied armies could not carry out as rapidly. Germany wished with the mass of troops to crush first of all the adversary who appeared to her the most immediately dangerous. This effort, broken for the first time on the Marne, attained its maximum at the moment of the battle of Flanders in which more than 50 army corps out of 59 were pitted against the French, British and Belgian armies.

Weight of Russian Menace.
"Here also the method followed by Germany is easily comprehensible. At the end of October the Russian danger was beginning to become pressing and it was necessary to win a decisive victory on the western theater of war. It was imperative to give international opinion the impression that Germany remained in that quarter mistress of the operations. Finally, it behooved her by this victory to gain the freedom to transport a large number of army corps to Poland. We have seen that the battle of Flanders, instead of being a success for Germany, was a marked defeat. This defeat was fraught with results, and it dominates the present position of the German army. The plans above described, the German mobilization, which had their justification in view of a prompt victory, were calculated to become extremely perilous from the moment that that victory failed to be gained.

"From that moment, in fact, Germany lost the initiative and the direction of the war. And furthermore, she was condemned to suffer the counter-effects of the enormous and precipitate effort which she had made in vain. From the point of view of her effectiveness and her regimental cadres (basic organization) she had undergone a wastage which her adversaries on the other hand had been able to save themselves. She had, in the words of the proverb, put all her eggs in one basket, and in spite of her large population she could not longer, owing to the immediate and sterile abuse which she had made of her resources, pretend to regain the superiority of numbers.

Caught Between Two Fires.
"She was reduced to facing as best she could, both war fronts, the ceaselessly increasing forces of the allies. She had attained the maximum of tension and had secured a minimum of results. She had thus landed herself in a difficulty which will henceforward go on increasing and which is made clear when the wastage which her army has suffered is closely studied."

Chapters two of this section of the review bears the headline, "Wastage of German Effectives."

"The waste of effectives is easy to establish," it says. "We have for the purpose two sources, the official lists of losses published by the German general staff and the note books, letters and archives of soldiers and officers killed and taken prisoners. These definite documents show that by the middle of January the German losses on the two fronts were 1,800,000 men.

"These figures are certainly less than the reality, because for one thing the sick are not comprised and for another the losses in the last battle in Poland are not included. Let us accept them, however; let us accept also that out of these 1,800,000 men, 500,000—this the normal proportion—have been able to rejoin after being cured. Thus the final loss for five months of the campaign has been 1,300,000 men, or 240,000 men per month. These figures agree exactly with what can be ascertained when the variations of effectives in certain regiments are examined.

What of the Future?
"It is certain that the majority of the German regiments have had to be completely renewed. What then is the situation created by these enormous losses?"

This question is answered by a statement headed "German troops available for 1915."

"The total of German formations known at the beginning of January states the review represented in round numbers 4,000,000 men. According to the official reports on German recruiting the entire resources of Germany in men amount to 5,000,000. But from these 5,000,000 have to be deducted men employed on railways, in the police and in certain administrative and industrial enterprises. 500,000 men. The total resources available for the war were therefore, 4,500,000. Out of these about one-half say 2,000,000, are now at the front. The definitive losses represent at least 1,300,000 men. The available resources amounted then at the beginning of January 3,200,000 men.

Of what are these resources composed? Chiefly of men who were untrained in time of peace, the trained reservists having almost all left the ranks for the front. It has moreover to be noted that out of these 3,200,000, 1,500,000 are according to the statistics of the German authorities the three categories of effectives.

The results available resources capable of fighting are therefore just

CARRANZA REFUSES AMERICAN PROPOSAL

Will Not Agree to Plan for Neutralizing Mexican Capital

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Intimations have come to the American government that General Carranza will not consent to the neutralization of Mexico City as proposed and agreed to by the Villa-Zapata forces.

No definite answer as yet has been received to the American note on the subject sent to the two factions, but preliminary reports to the state department indicate that General Carranza is unwilling to accept the proposal. It is believed, however, that arrangements may be made for uninterrupted passage of trains to and from Mexico City and Vera Cruz, though a decision on this question also has not been reached by Carranza.

Summary of Situation.
The state department's summary of the military situation in Mexico is as follows:

"The department is in receipt of advices dated April 4 stating that General Obregon is at a place 30 kilometers south of Irapuato. It is reported that he has an army of 20,000 men. The army of General Villa was preparing to leave Irapuato at noon on the fourth and expecting to come into contact with the forces of Obregon on the morning of the fifth. General Villa made preparations to leave Irapuato on the morning of the fifth to take personal charge of the operations.

"The department's latest advices from Yucatan indicate that everything is quiet at Progreso and Merida. The American tug, Forward, which was employed by General Carranza, arrived at Progreso last Wednesday. General Alvarado is reported to be at Valladolid. He claims a victory over the Ortiz forces and states that they were dispersed. However, on March 30, troops were sent to the southeastern part of the state.

Smallpox at Progreso.
"Some cases of smallpox at Progreso were reported via navy wireless on April, one death had occurred and there were still six cases and eight suspects, all under guard. Later advices state that the railroads of Yucatan have been taken over by General Alvarado and his appointed boards of directors and dismissed the railroads are not operating as well as they were previously. Passenger traffic on the main line is operating, but freight traffic is reduced.

"Some fighting has occurred in the eastern part of Yucatan state and wounded soldiers are occasionally brought into Merida. The gunboat Zaragosa has left Progreso."

Carranza Report.
General Carranza telegraphed his agency here today that General Salvador Alvarado, military governor of Yucatan, had won the confidence of the people and was enthusiastically welcomed when he recently made a tour of the principal towns of the state.

Another telegram from Carranza dated today at Vera Cruz said: "Reactionaries headed by Villa and Zapata only hold the following states out of 22: Chihuahua, Durango, Zacatecas, Guanajuato, capital of San Luis Potosi, Morelos, and Mexico and part of Sonora, and scattered portions of Coahuila, Nuevo Leon, Jalisco and territory of Tepic. All the rest of the republic which is the greatest territory, is entirely in our possession."

2,000,000. These men comprising the 1915 1916 and 1917 classes, called out in anticipation, constitute and this point cannot too strongly be insisted upon—the total of available resources for the operations during the 12 months of 1915.

"As to what military value of these troops will be considering the haste with which they have been trained, the formidable losses sustained in the battle of Flanders, the newly formed troops, consequently, their military value will be limited.

"When it is remembered that according to the German documents themselves, the definitive loss each month is 260,000 men, it is manifest that the available resources for the year 1915 will not suffice to fill the gaps of a war of 10 months.

"It is then superabundantly established that in the matter of effectives Germany has reached the maximum of possible effort. If the men at present available, she creates as it is certain that she is preparing to do at this moment, fresh formations she will be preventing herself if the war lasts another 10 months as is admissible from being able to complete fresh her old formations. If she creates no new formations she will have in 1915 exactly what is necessary and no more to complete the existing units. Fresh formations in mind the ways of the German general staff, one may suppose that disregarding the eventual impossibility of reconstituting it is still addressing itself to creating new formations. The weakness to which Germany will expose herself in the matter of effectives has just been set forth, and it is easy to show that this weakness will be still further aggravated by the wastage in the regimental cadres."

GERMAN PRISONERS ALL BUT MAKE THEIR ESCAPE
LONDON, April 7 (Monday).—A nearly completed tunnel through which German officer prisoners could have made their escape from the internment camp at Philbert near Maiden Head has been discovered by the British military authorities according to the Daily Telegraph.

The newspaper says the tunnel would have been finished in another 24 hours. It was 30 feet long and had been dug beneath a garden and under a high wall. The work of excavation had been carried on at night with the aid of five torches.

It is stated that the tunnel was discovered by a British soldier who was on duty in the camp. The tunnel was found by accident when the soldier was digging for a pipe. The tunnel was 30 feet long and had been dug beneath a garden and under a high wall. The work of excavation had been carried on at night with the aid of five torches.

LOS ANGELES CHIEF POLICE SUSPENDED

Also Candidate for Mayor; Faces Serious Charge Following Indictment

LOS ANGELES, April 6.—Charles E. Sebastian, candidate for mayor, was suspended as chief of police following his indictment yesterday by the county grand jury on the charge of contributing to the dependency of Edith Berklin, 17 years old, half-sister and ward of Mrs. Little Pratt, also indicted on the same charge. Mayor Henry Rose said Sebastian was suspended at his own request.

Bail was fixed for each defendant at $2,500. The arrest of Sebastian on yesterday's indictment, was made reformatory tomorrow. Mrs. Pratt failed to furnish bail and was taken to the county jail.

The indictment today followed the charge filed yesterday when Sebastian and his counsel, Earl Rogers, were indicted for alleged attempts to corruptly influence the grand jury in its investigation of statements that Sebastian was alleged to have contributed to the delinquency of two wards of the juvenile court.

Sebastian alleged that this latter investigation was the outcome of a political plot intended to ruin his chances of being chosen mayor in the municipal elections in May. The grand jury investigated this assertion, rejected it as unfounded in a report last Saturday and then indicted Sebastian and Rogers on a charge of sending to the grand jury a 32-page letter which the jury decided contained "threats and intimidations."

VILLA THREATENS TO CONFISCATE LANDS OF ALL FOREIGNERS

EL PASO, Tex., April 6.—The confiscation of foreign owned ranching land in Mexico as well as mining properties is threatened by the Villa government. According to advices received here today Francisco Escudero, the minister of finance and industry of the Villa cabinet, is drafting at Chihuahua City a law regarding untitled land similar to that recently adopted referring to the confiscation of unworked mines.

The proposed land law would make legal the confiscation of all arable lands, their tillable qualities to be adjudged by the government. Cattlemen here assert that this would result in the seizing of large tracts of their land which it would be impossible to farm under existing railroad and labor conditions.

Some amendments already adopted to the mining law in similar fashion called for the confiscation of all developed properties not being worked continually.

The mining men here and in New York city have organized to protect against the new law and soon will send delegates to the Washington government. The foreign ranch owners as yet have not begun any organized movement to fight the land law.

The Villa officials hold that they merely are attempting to stimulate industry to assist the populace. The mining men's committee has notified Secretary Escudero that the new mining law will make further work impossible. Many of the mines already have shut down.

Allies Are Trying to Corner Horse Market

OTTAWA, Ont., April 6.—Horses and other military supplies in all parts of the world are being conserved for the use of the allies and drawn upon as required, parliament was told tonight by Premier Sir Robert Borden. The information was given in answer to complaints that British horse buyers had been withdrawn from Canada upon government suggestion and the market and price in Canada thereby restricted.

Asked if the exportation of Canadian horses to the United States had been prohibited, Premier Borden replied that there was such prohibition and that too, was part of the British and allied powers plan.

AMERICAN HELD BY CARRANZA OFFICIALS

DOUGLAS, Ariz., April 6.—Harry Carlson, an American whose former residence is given as Hummelton, Pa. is a prisoner, held incommunicado by the Carranza authorities at Agua Prieta. Carlson was made a captive three weeks ago at Cumpas by Colonel Samaniego and was reported today by Carranza officials to have been executed but his friends learned that he was still alive and held at Agua Prieta.

ANDERSON AND BOYTS WIN; SINGLE TAX AND AMUSEMENTS BEATEN

Early last evening, when it was found that the South End precincts were returning very small majorities in favor of it. The West Side precincts pulled up more than was expected, but the loss of these in the south portion of the city caused the backers of the measure to give up all hopes of their being able to approach the big majorities known to have been cast in the North End and East Side.

The firemen had workers out in force and everything possible was done to offset the last minute fight waged on their double platoon ordinance. In this they were in a way successful, polling fair majority.

Weather Held Down Vote.
Rainy, misty weather kept several thousand votes from the polls. It was estimated that the vote would reach 10,000 with fair weather, the registration being the heaviest in the history of the city. Despite weather conditions, however, women took an active part in the election, especially on the West Side, where their vote is said to have been greater in many instances than that of the men.

The amusement ordinance and Jeffers' candidacy are responsible. Though it had been expected that the count would be exceedingly difficult, the judges found, much to their surprise, that it was comparatively easy. Those experienced finished their work early and the last precincts were in shortly after 1:30 o'clock this (Wednesday) morning.

The cooperation of the judges and clerks made it possible for returns to be received much earlier than usual and also made possible a complete count by this morning.

REPUBLICANS AND 'DRYS' MAKE SWEEP IN MANY CITY CONTESTS

It is the first time a negro ever has served in the city council.

100 Saloons Voted Out.
CHICAGO, April 6.—The dry forces voted 100 more saloons out of Illinois in the local option elections today, and by wiping out certain wet spots added three counties to 83 already completely dry, a total of 86 counties out of 103 in the state.

The wets retained the largest cities where local option was an issue at the polls. Danville, Marysville and Kankakee remained wet by larger majorities than at the previous elections. At no point in the state did dry territory go wet.

There were 350 saloons involved and as 100 of these will have to go out of business, the dry forces hailed the result as a victory.

The three counties which became completely dry were Franklin county, in which the township of Barren went dry. Marion county, in which Centerville and Randolph were wet spots, and Jasper county, of which St. Marie township in the city of Newton were wet spots.

KANSAS CITY April 6.—W. Green today was selected mayor of Kansas City, Kan., by a majority estimated at more than 5,000 and early returns indicated the election of all other candidates on the administration ticket with the possible exception of James L. Boggs, commissioner of streets and public improvements, who was closely crowded for the office by Frank J. Feren.

Newspaper Man Leading.
TOPEKA, Kan., April 6.—J. E. House, a newspaper man, was opposed for mayor of Topeka by C. G. Blakeley, a real estate man, today. Counting of more than half of the 14,000 votes cast gave House a lead of 1,100.

Drys Gain in Wisconsin.
MILWAUKEE, April 6.—The vote today in Wisconsin cities, towns and villages on the "wet" and "dry" question showed a gain for the "dry" element in numbers of towns gained, but the larger cities voting on the issue, Madison, Superior, Ashland and Beloit—remained in the wet column.

Forty-one places which were dry voted to remain so, and 55 voted to retain saloons. Probably the most significant feature of the vote was that 19 cities and towns which were formerly wet were swung into the "dry" column, while only four villages which were "dry" went over to the "wet" column.

Flame Back Into Wet Column.
ST. PAUL, Minn., April 6.—Elections today in several Minneapolis cities of the fourth-class wrought but one important change in the wet and dry situation. This was at St. Peter, where saloons were voted in by a decisive majority.

Drys Gain in Nebraska.
OMAHA, April 6.—The result of the election held throughout the state today shows that the "drys" gained a victory of about 19 to 3, according to early returns tonight.

A primary election for candidates for city commissioners was held in Omaha. Early returns indicated that the present city commission would be re-nominated. No predictions could be made as to the other candidates.

Among the men nominated for the city commission of Lincoln was Charles W. Bryan, brother of W. J.

GERMANY CANNOT CARRY ON WAR MUCH LONGER

French Report Analyzes Situation in All Its Phases; Allies' Guns Are Superior to Kaiser's Artillery, It Is Claimed

LONDON, March 27 (Correspondence of the Associated Press).—Further instalments of the French official review of the French army after six months of war have been obtained by the Associated Press. The sixth instalment deals with material, artillery, transport and supplies, and the seventh instalment takes up the situation of the German army and makes an analysis of the German forces in the field and available for service.

Beginning with the field gun, the famous "75," the compiler of the report, after rehearsing the splendid qualities of this weapon, its power, its rapidity of action and its precision, points out that it possesses a degree of strength and endurance which make it an implement of war of the first order.

"It may be stated without hesitation," says the review, "that our '75' guns are in as perfect condition today as they were on the first day of the war, although the use made of them has exceeded all calculations. The consumption of projectiles was, in fact, so enormous as to cause for a moment an ammunition crisis, which, however, was completely overcome several weeks ago.

Frash Munitions of War.

"The methodical and complete exploitation of all the resources of the country," continues the review, "organized since the beginning of the war, has enabled us to accumulate a considerable stock of fresh munitions and an increasing rate of production is henceforth assured. We are thus sure of being able to provide without particular effort for all the needs of the campaign, present and future, and it is this certainty which has enabled us to supply projectiles to several of the allied armies, among others to the Serbian and Belgian armies. From the statements of German prisoners, we have learned that the effectiveness of our projectiles is superior to that of the old ones.

"Our heavy artillery was in process of reorganization when the war broke out, with the result that we were indisputably in position of inferiority in respect of this arm during the first battles. But today the roles have been changed and our adversaries themselves acknowledge the superiority of our heavy artillery.

"The change has been brought about in various ways, partly by the intense activity of the cannon foundries in new production, partly by the employment at the front of the enormous reserves of artillery preserved in the fortresses. The very large number of heavy guns at the front represents only a part of the total number available for use.

Big Stock of Projectiles.

"There is an abundant stock of projectiles for the heavy artillery, which, as in the case of the field gun ammunition, is daily growing of more importance. The same is true of the reserves of powder and other explosives and of all materials needed for the manufacture of shells.

"With regard to small arms, hand grenades, bombs and all the devices for life taking, which the trench warfare at short distance has brought into use, the position of the French troops is in every way favorable.

Then follows a passage on the development of the machine gun in this kind of warfare.

"Owing to the extended use of this weapon the number of them supplied to the various units has been appreciably increased," says the review. "Not only is each unit in possession of its full regulated complement of machine guns, but the number of these guns attached to each unit has been increased, since February 1 by one-third."

The report next passes to the transport service which it says has worked with remarkable precision since the beginning of the war. This section of the review closes by referring to food supplies for the army which are described as abundant.

Review of German Situation.

In the seventh section, the official review turns to a discussion of the situation of the German army. Its first chapter, headed "The German effort," opens with a statement that the German forces at the commencement of the campaign. The writer says:

"The military effort of Germany at the outset of the campaign exceeded all anticipations. Her design was to crush the French army in a few weeks under a tremendous mass of troops. Nothing was neglected to bring that mass together.

"The number of German army corps in time of peace is 25. When war began the German general staff put in the field on the two theaters of operation: (1) As fighting troops (active, reserve, or militia) 15 army corps; (2) As troops to guard communications and territory—formations of the landwehr.

"In October, six and a half new army corps made their appearance, plus a division of sailors, in all, seven corps. From the 1st of November to the end of December there was only an insignificant increase consisting of one division of sailors. In January, 1915, the number of fighting formations put into line by the German army was 22,000 army corps, divided as follows:

"Active corps—Twenty-five and a half.

"Reserve corps—Twenty-one and a half.

" Ersatz brigades—Six and a half.

" Reserve corps of new formation—Seven and a half.

" Corps of landwehr—Eight and a half.

CARRANZA REFUSES AMERICAN PROPOSAL

Will Not Agree to Plan for Neutralizing Mexico Capital

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Intimations have come to the American government that General Carranza will not consent to the neutralization of Mexico City as proposed and agreed to by the Villa-Zapata forces.

No definite answer as yet has been received to the American note on the subject sent to the two factions, but preliminary reports to the state department indicate that General Carranza is unwilling to accept the proposal. It is believed, however, that arrangements may be made for uninterrupted passage of trains to and from Mexico City and Vera Cruz, though a decision on this question also has not been reached by Carranza.

Summary of Situation.

"The department is in receipt of advices dated April 4 stating that General Carranza is at a place 30 kilometers south of Irapuato. It is reported that he has an army of 20,000 men. The army of General Villa was preparing to leave Irapuato at noon on the fourth and expecting to come into contact with the forces of Carranza on the morning of the fifth. General Villa made preparations to leave Irapuato on the morning of the fifth to take personal charge of the operations.

"The department's latest advices from Yucatan indicate that everything is quiet at Progreso and Merida. The American tug, Forward, which was employed by General Carranza, arrived at Progreso last Wednesday. General Alvarado is reported to be at Valladolid. He claims a victory over the Ortiz forces and states that they were dispersed. However, on March 20, troops were sent to the southeastern part of the state.

Smallpox at Progreso.

"Some cases of smallpox at Progreso were reported via navy wireless on April 1. One death had occurred and there were still six cases and eight suspects, all under guard. Later advices state that the railroads of Yucatan have been taken over by General Alvarado who has dismissed the board of directors and appointed officials of his own. It is reported that the railroads are not operating as well as they were previously. Passenger traffic on the main line is operating, but freight traffic is reduced.

"Some fighting has occurred in the eastern part of Yucatan state and wounded soldiers are occasionally being transported to Merida. The gunboat Zaragoza has left Progreso."

Carranza Report.

General Carranza telegraphed his agency here today that General Salvador Alvarado, military governor of Yucatan, had won the confidence of the people and was enthusiastically welcomed when he recently made a tour of the principal towns of the state.

Another telegram from Carranza dated today at Vera Cruz said: "Reactions against Villa and Zapata only hold the following states out of 27: Chihuahua, Durango, Zacatecas, Aguascalientes, capital of San Luis Potosi, Morelos, and Mexico and part of Sonora, and scattered portions of Coahuila, Nuevo Leon, Jalisco and territory of Tepic. All the rest of the republic, which is the greatest territory, is entirely in our possession."

2,000,000. These men, comprising the 1915, 1916 and 1917 classes, called out in anticipation, constitute and this point cannot too strongly be insisted upon—the total of available resources for the operations during the 12 months of 1915.

"As to what military value of these troops will be considering the haste with which they have been trained, the formidable losses sustained in the battle of Flanders by the newly formed corps show very clearly. Their military value will be limited.

"When it is remembered that according to the German documents themselves, the definitive loss each month is 250,000 men, it is manifest that the available resources for the year 1915 will not suffice to fill the gaps of a war of 10 months.

"It is then superabundantly established that in the matter of effectiveness Germany has reached the maximum of possible effort. If, with the men at present available, she creates, as it is certain that she is preparing to do at this moment, fresh formations, she will be preventing herself, if the war lasts another 10 months, as is admissible, from being able to complete fresh her old formations. If she creates new formations she will have in 1915 exactly what is necessary and no more to complete the existing units afresh.

"Bearing in mind the ways of the German general staff, one may suppose that disregarding the eventual impossibility of reconstituting, it is still addressing itself to creating new formations. The weakness to which Germany will expose herself in the matter of effective has just been set forth, and it is easy to show that this weakness will be still further aggravated by the wastage in the regimental cadres."

LOS ANGELES CHIEF POLICE SUSPENDED

Also Candidates for Mayor; Faces Serious Charge Following Indictment

LOS ANGELES, April 6.—Charles E. Sebastian, candidate for mayor, was suspended as chief of police following his indictment yesterday by the county grand jury on the charge of contributing to the dependency of Edith Berklin, 17 years old, half-orphan and ward of Mrs. Little Pratt, also indicted on the same charge. Mayor Henry Rose said Sebastian was suspended at his own request.

Bail was fixed for each defendant at $2,500. The writ of arrest for Sebastian, who is already on $5,000 bonds on yesterday's indictment, was made returnable tomorrow. Mrs. Pratt failed to furnish bail and was taken to the county jail.

The indictment today followed the charge filed yesterday when Sebastian and his counsel, Earl Rogers, were indicted for alleged attempts to corruptly influence the grand jury in its investigation of statements that Sebastian was alleged to have contributed to the delinquency of two wards of the juvenile court.

Sebastian alleged that this latter investigation was the outcome of a political plot intended to ruin his chances of being chosen mayor in the municipal elections in May. The grand jury investigated this assertion, rejected it as unfounded in a report last Saturday and then indicted Sebastian and Rogers on a charge of sending to the grand jury a 22-page letter which the jury decided contained "threats and intimidations."

VILLA THREATENS TO CONFISCATE LANDS OF ALL FOREIGNERS

EL PASO, Tex., April 6.—The confiscation of foreign owned ranching land in Mexico as well as mining properties is threatened by the Villa government. According to advices received here today Francisco Escudero, the minister of finance and industry of the Villa cabinet, is drafting at Chihuahua City a law regarding untitled land similar to that recently adopted referring to the confiscation of unworked mines.

The proposed law would make legal the confiscation of all arable lands, their tillage qualities to be adjudged by the government. Cattle men here assert that this would result in the seizing of large tracts of their land which it would be impossible to farm under existing railroad and labor conditions. The amendments already adopted to the mining law in similar fashion called for the confiscation of all developed properties not being worked continually.

The mining men here and in New York city have organized to protest against the new law and soon will send delegates to the Washington government. The foreign ranch owners as yet have not begun any organized movement to fight the law.

The Villa officials hold that they merely are attempting to stimulate industry to assist the populace. The mining men's committee has notified Secretary Escudero that the new mining law will make further work impossible. Many of the mines already have shut down.

Allies Are Trying to Corner Horse Market

OTTAWA, Ont., April 6.—Horses and other military supplies in all parts of the world are being conserved for the use of the allies and drawn upon as required, parliament was told tonight by Premier Sir Robert Borden. The information was given in answer to complaints that British horse buyers had been withdrawn from Canada upon government suggestion and the market and price in Canada thereby restricted.

Asked if the exportation of Canadian horses to the United States had been prohibited, Premier Borden replied that there was such prohibition and that, too, was part of the British and allied powers plan.

AMERICAN HELD BY CARRANZA OFFICIALS

DOUGLAS, Ariz., April 6.—Harry Carlson, an American whose former residence is given as Huhmalstein, Pa., is a prisoner, held incommunicado by the Carranza authorities of Agua Prieta. Carlson was made a captive three weeks ago at Cumpas by Colonel Samaniego and was reported today by Carranza officers to have been executed, but a friend learned that he was still alive and held at Agua Prieta.

GERMAN PRISONERS ALL BUT MAKE THEIR ESCAPE

LONDON, April 6 (Monday).—A nearly completed tunnel through which 100 German officer prisoners could have made their escape from the internment camp at Philbert, near Maiden Head, has been discovered by the British military authorities, according to the Daily Telegraph.

The newspaper asserts the tunnel would have been finished in another 24 hours. It was 30 feet long and has been dug through a garden and under a high wall. The work of excavation was carried on at night with the aid of five shovels.

It is pointed out that the tunnel was dug by the German officers, who were to be found in the camp, and that the British military authorities were not aware of its existence until it was discovered.

REPUBLICANS AND 'DRYS' MAKE SWEEP IN MANY CITY CONTESTS

It is the first time a negro ever has served in the city council.

100 Saloons Voted Out.

CHICAGO, April 6.—The dry forces voted 100 more saloons out of Illinois in the local option elections today, and by wiping out certain wet spots added three counties to 52 already completely dry, a total of 55 counties out of 193 in the state.

The wets retained the largest cities where local option was an issue at the polls. Danville, Murphysboro and Kankakee remained wet by larger majorities than at the previous elections. At no point in the state did dry territory go wet.

There were 350 saloons involved and as 100 of these will have to go out of business, the dry forces hailed the result as a victory.

The three counties which became completely dry were Franklin county, in which the township of Warren voted dry, Marion county, in which Centerville and Sandoval were wet spots, and Jasper county, of which St. Marie township in the city of Newton were wet spots.

KANSAS CITY, April 6.—C. W. Green today was reelected mayor of Kansas City, Kan., by a majority estimated at more than 5,000 and early returns indicated the election of all other candidates on the administration ticket with the possible exception of James L. Boggs, commissioner of streets and public improvements, who was closely crowded for the office by Frank J. Feren.

Newspaper Man Leading.

TOPEKA, Kan., April 6.—J. E. House, a newspaper man, was opposed for mayor of Topeka by C. G. Blakeley, a real estate man, today. Counting of more than half of the 14,000 votes cast gave House a lead of 1,100.

In Leavenworth, Mayor E. W. Cranner with 2,642 votes was reelected over Mrs. Iva Marshall, Socialist candidate, who received 764 votes.

Drys Gain in Wisconsin.

MILWAUKEE, April 6.—The vote today in Wisconsin cities, towns and villages on the "wet" and "dry" question showed a gain for the "dry" element in numbers of towns gained, but the larger cities voting on the issue remained in the wet column.

Forty-one places which were dry voted to remain so, and 65 voted to retain saloons. Probably the most significant feature of the vote was that 19 cities and towns which were formerly wet were swung into the "dry" column, while only four villages which were "dry" went over to the "wet" column.

Plans Back Into Wet Column.

ST. PAUL, April 6.—Elections today in several Minnesota cities of the fourth-class wrought but one important change in the wet and dry situation. This was at St. Peter, where saloons were voted in by a decisive majority.

Drys Gain in Nebraska.

OMAHA, April 6.—The result of the election held throughout the state today, shows that the "drys" gained a victory of about 10-1, according to early returns tonight.

A primary election for candidates for city commissioners was held in Omaha. Early returns indicated that the present city commission would be nominated. No predictions could be made as to the other candidates.

Among the men nominated for the city commission of Lincoln was Charles W. Bryan, brother of W. J.

WHO MADE THE FIRST BARREL

The Question Can't Be Answered but Egyptians Used Hooped Vessels From the Kansas City Times.

What invention has had a more varied usefulness than the barrel? Few give such promise of perpetuity. Simple yet perfect in plan and structure the barrel is really a stroke of genius. Who made the first one? Who first had the happy thought of making a strong vessel out of wood and fastened with hoops? When did he live? In no history, in no encyclopedia, have we any information on the subject, unless we except the author of the Bible. But there is reason to believe that barrels were in use long before the Gauls existed as a people. Egyptian monuments give proof of the early use of hooped vessels, though no date of their invention. In one of the inscriptions copied by Wilkinson are seen two slaves pouring grain from a wooden vessel made with hoops, a scribe keeps tally and a sweeper stands ready with broom to sweep the dropped kernels. The measure is barrel-shaped and very like the kind of modern Egypt. It would hold about a peck. The date

Whether Captain Thierichens, commander of the cruiser, would take advantage of the opportunity afforded him to get back to the high seas could not be ascertained, and conflicting rumors persisted.
That the ship was prepared for departure tonight was undoubted, but that she would attempt to dash through the fleet of allied warships off the Virginia capes seemed incredible.
Late in the day the American battleship Alabama, guarding the approach to Hampton Roads from Norfolk and Newport News, shifted her davits to afford freedom for her gun turrets, and the ship cleared for action.

PINCHOT EXPLAINS
GERMAN INCIDENT

Stopped in Belgium by the Germans; Raises Diplomatic Question

THE HAGUE, April 6 (via London).—Both Henry Van Dyke, the American ambassador to The Netherlands, and Gifford Pinchot, attached to the American legation, have endeavored to the utmost to keep the matter of Mr. Pinchot's expulsion from Belgium by the Germans from public view, lest such action should render more difficult the work of relief in Belgium, involving the success of nine and a half million destitute people of that country and the northern provinces of France.
Mr. Pinchot, however, on learning today that the incident had been published, gave the Associated Press the following signed statement:
"Some time ago I was asked by Herbert C. Hoover to become a member of the Commission for the Relief in Belgium and to take charge of the feeding of the French in the invaded provinces north of the German lines. After going twice to the continent, arrangements finally were completed and guarantees given to the commission by the German government that the American commission's food would not be taken.
Reports to Dr. Van Dyke.
"I came to The Hague and reported immediately to Dr. Van Dyke, to whose legation I was attached by orders from Washington, with the specific duty of representing the commission in feeding the civil population in northeastern France within the German lines.
"Dr. Van Dyke procured from the German legation at The Hague the necessary papers for entering Belgium. On March 30, I went with my wife in a commission automobile and was accompanied by a Brussels representative of the commission to the Belgian frontier, where my diplomatic and commission papers were examined. After three hours' delay we were sent under an armed escort to Antwerp.
"The next morning, orders came from the German government, Von Bissing, through the head of the pass office in Antwerp that we were to leave Belgium without delay. No reason was assigned for this action.
"Why He Was Repulsed.
"Before leaving, however, I received a letter from the American minister at Brussels, Brand Whitlock, saying that the reason given him by General von Bissing for our expulsion was my relationship to the British minister at The Hague, Sir Alan Johnston, who married my sister, and the fact that I had stayed with him at The Hague on my way to Belgium. Accordingly, we returned to Holland on March 31 and since then have been staying with the American minister at The Hague awaiting instructions from Washington.
"On entering and leaving Belgium, Mrs. Pinchot and I were searched by the German military authorities without expressing the least impression upon me by what I saw of the relief work in Belgium and especially by the warm expressions of gratitude and appreciation which came to me from every side and from all classes of people, including many of the leaders of the province in which Antwerp lies."
Dr. Van Dyke, referring to the occurrence, said:
"The incident has diplomatic relations, of course, but these are infinitely less important than the continuance of the work of the relief commission, which is saving millions of people from starvation. Therefore, I shall say nothing about the incident until my instructions come from Washington."

PUEBLO DOCTOR HAS A CLOSE CALL IN MEXICO

SANTA FE, N. M., April 6.—Dr. Will B. Davis, acting American consul at Guadalajara, escaped imprisonment and probable execution by Carranzistas by hiding on the roof of the consulate after an assistant had locked and sealed the doors, according to private letters from Guadalajara received here. He remained there for two days during the evacuation by the Carranza forces on the arrival of the Villistas.
The new war law imposed by Villa at Guadalajara, these advisers say, include the following sums on Americans: American Mining company of Philadelphia, 10,000 pesos; A. W. Geist, John H. Kip, hardware merchants, 2,000; A. H. Downs, real estate man, 1,000. A. H. and company, the principal French drug goods firm, has been forced to pay 200,000 pesos. Of the natives, Joaquin Chirista, a prominent citizen, was promptly shot by the Villa forces when he refused to pay his assessment.

PUEBLO, April 6.—Dr. Will B. Davis, acting American consul at Guadalajara, mentioned in today's dispatches as having been in danger from Carranzistas, is a native of Pueblo. Dr. Davis last summer was ordered to leave Mexico by the state department because of dangers to Americans. The doctor returned to his home here at that time last fall when the Mexican situation seemed calm. He is a widely known in this part of the state and has a daughter, Mrs. W. C. Carrington, residing in this city.
Dr. Davis is eminent in his profession, and his assertion that lime assimilation is the "real issue" in resistance to tuberculosis bears the stamp of authority.
Ordinarily lime is not easily assimilated medicinally, but Eckman's Alternative is one preparation containing it in such form and combination as to insure assimilation by the average patient.
This is one reason for its success in many cases of tuberculosis which apparently have yielded to it and others which have been benefited through its use.
Our experience-based faith in this remedy is shared by a large number of men and women, who say they own health, strength and life to it. It contains no opiates, narcotics or habit-forming drugs and is safe to use.
If your druggist is out of it, he can get it for you or order direct from Eckman Laboratories, Philadelphia.

DUVAL WEST NOW
IS IN MEXICO CITY

MEXICO CITY, April 6 (via London).—General Duval West, who arrived here tonight from Vera Cruz, was accompanied by General Arnold Whankin and a member of the staff of the Brazilian legation. Mr. West made part of the journey in an automobile.
America mentioned on automobiles and operated by Mexicans have been invented by a German for taking photographs from balloons.

PULLMAN PORTERS
COULD NOT EXIST
BUT FOR THE TIPS

Conductors Have No Scruples Against "Knocking Down" on Seat Sales

CHICAGO, April 6.—Pullman sleeping car porters went on the witness stand before the United States commission on industrial relations today and told the commission just what the tipping system means to them. They couldn't pay expenses on the road with the wages, to say nothing of paying rents and maintaining families, they said.
There was other testimony, including a statement that Pullman car conductors do not consider it dishonest to "knock down" on seat sales, enough to pay their expenses on the road. These average $30 a month and come out of wages ranging from $30 to $35 a month. The witness who made this statement was H. H. Sewell of Chicago, a former conductor.
The first of the porters to testify was Tom S. Brennan, who works on a sleeper running between St. Louis and Savannah, Ill., and has done so for 21 years. His salary is $42 per month.
"What do you make in tips?" asked Frank P. Walsh, chairman of the commission.
"About $75 a month," replied Brennan.
The next witness was G. H. Sylvester of New York, a porter on the Twentieth Century limited of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern road. Sylvester wore a check pattern suit and two diamond rings. His salary, he said, is $27.50 a month, and tips average about $75 a month. He is a veteran and has been on the present run for 13 years. He is entitled to $6.33 a week from the Pullman company; he has always earned the small bonus offered by the company; his uniform is bought for him because he has been more than 10 years in service, and no charges have ever been brought against him, he said.
Commissioner O'Connor asked what would be the effect if congress passed an antitipping law.
"The porters would simply quit. They could not live on $27.50 a month."
"Then would you organize and petition the company?" pursued the commissioner.
"We would just quit and then tell the company we could not live on the wages."
"But suppose wages were not raised?"
"Well, I want to tell you that if the porters were getting nothing but wages and a passenger with two dollars in his pocket got on he would not be safe."

ALL TERRE HAUTE
OFFICIALS CONVICTED

About 100 Are Implicated in Election Frauds of Last November

INDIANAPOLIS, April 6.—Mayor Donn M. Roberts of Terre Haute and all except two of the other 26 defendants in the election conspiracy case who were found guilty by a jury in the federal court here today, had returned to their homes tonight to remain until Monday morning, when they will be sentenced by Judge Anderson. In the meantime, preparations for an appeal will be made by the attorneys for the convicted men.
Only two of the 27 convicted men are in jail here tonight. They are Alexander Accel, alias steel, who was arrested some time ago and held under $5,000 bond on a charge of attempting to corrupt government witnesses, and Timothy "Bull" Conaway, who just before the trial opened was given a jail sentence in a local court for carrying concealed weapons.
Severe penalties can be imposed. The possible cumulative punishment under the four counts of the indictment is fines totaling $25,000 and imprisonment for 19 years.
Those Found Guilty.
All of the defendants, many of whom were accompanied by relatives, took the verdict calmly. Those found guilty are:
Donn M. Roberts, mayor of Terre Haute and candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor; Eli H. Redman, declared elected Vigo circuit judge by 10 votes; Elmer E. Talbot, former controller of Terre Haute; Dennis Shea, sheriff of Vigo county; Maurice Walsh, county sealer of weights and measures and treasurer of campaign funds; Harry S. Montgomery, president of the board of public works; John M. Maxwell, city inspector of weights and measures, former member of the state legislature; Thomas C. Smith, city judge; George Ehrenhardt, member of board of public works; Edward R. Driscoll, secretary of the Vigo county Democratic committee; Hilton Redman, son of Eli H. Redman; Charles Houghton, assistant custodian of the city hall; Lewis Nunnley, assistant city engineer; Joseph O'Mara, street commissioner; William R. Crockett, superintendent of city crematory; Richard Knuckly, cemetery clerk and Roberts messenger; Alexander Accel, a foreigner, inspector of street paving; Arthur Ellis, undertaker, Progressive election official; John E. Green, proprietor of second-hand store; William Davis, gambler; Pearley McKay, gambler; George Sovern, gambler; Timothy "Bull" Conaway, former pugilist, bartender; Andrew O'Brien, bartender; Joseph Strauss, liquor salesman; George Woodall, saloonkeeper; William H. O'Donnell, saloonkeeper.
Convicted on Four Counts.
The indictment on which the men were tried is in four counts. The first count is based on section 19 of the United States criminal code. The subject matter is conspiracy to injure persons in the exercise of their civil rights. The indictment charges that qualified voters were prevented from exercising that right, that qualified persons were prevented from serving on election boards and that persons who had committed no offense were deprived of their liberty without due process of law.
Conspiracy to defraud the United States by corrupting the election is charged in the second count, which is based on section 37 of the criminal code, which was used in the dynamite conspiracy case here two years ago.
In brief the third count alleges that in furtherance of the scheme to defraud the United States, the defendants placed letters in the mails, and it is also based on section 37. The final count charges a scheme to defraud the gamblers and saloonkeepers of Terre Haute and in furtherance of this scheme a letter was placed in the mails.

GERMANY DISCLAIMS RESPONSIBILITY FOR
DEATH OF AMERICAN

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Government officials took under consideration today a statement from the German embassy quoting an official message from the Berlin foreign office in which responsibility was disclaimed for the loss of any neutral lives on board the British steamer Falaba, recently sunk by a German submarine.
The claim is set up by Germany that the Falaba, as well as other British merchantmen, was armed and that military necessity made it impossible for the submarine to give any longer time than was allowed for the passengers to escape.
State department officials say that the death of Leon C. Thrasher, an American lost with the Falaba, constitutes a complicated case. If the German view that all merchantmen being armed are in the category of warships is accepted, the rights of neutrals to travel abroad by belligerent craft of any kind would be circumscribed. Furthermore, Germany contends that sufficient time was permitted for the escape of the passengers and the intimation is given that if he was not included among the saved there was an act of negligence for which the Germans were not responsible.
LONDON, April 7 (Wednesday).—The Post, in an editorial, says of the American reply to the British note: "It is cordially conceived and is phrased in lucid, moderate and logical terms."
Reviewing both notes, the Post regrets that Great Britain saw fit to plead that its action was necessary as a reprisal for the actions of Germany, adding:
"For the pretext was perhaps unfortunate. It laid open the British government to the frontal return of course, uttered by the United States that his majesty's ministers could not possibly be supposed to regard illegal action on their part as justified by illegal action on the part of others."
Continuing, the editorial laments the fact that the order neither squares with nor is a substitute for the Declaration of Paris and London or The Hague conventions, and says: "If it is to replace them the fact should be formally stated. So long as they are acknowledged by the British government, they provide, as the American note not obscurely hints, ground for actions for damages to be brought by neutral nations."
It will be rather odd, if in addition to the other expenses involved in maintaining peace, the public is expected to settle the long bill for compensation to neutral nations at the conclusion of the war. Such a bill, unless indeed the British proclamation is to remain a dead letter.

KAW CITY, OKLA. BANK
ROBBED; BANDITS ESCAPE

KAW CITY, Okla., April 6.—Three men entered the Farmers National bank here late today, held up the cashier, John Hofer, and his assistant, Arthur Sanderson, with revolvers, took $2,000, all the available cash, locked the bank officers in the vault and rode away toward Oage hills to the east.

Lime Combats Tuberculosis

"It is difficult to escape the conviction that lime starvation and lime assimilation are the real issues behind the masks of vulnerability and resistance in tuberculosis," writes Ira Van Gieson, M. D., in the May 11, 1912, issue of the New York Medical Record.
Dr. Van Gieson is eminent in his profession, and his assertion that lime assimilation is the "real issue" in resistance to tuberculosis bears the stamp of authority.
Ordinarily lime is not easily assimilated medicinally, but Eckman's Alternative is one preparation containing it in such form and combination as to insure assimilation by the average patient.

The subject matter is conspiracy to injure persons in the exercise of their civil rights. The indictment charges that qualified voters were prevented from exercising that right, that qualified persons were prevented from serving on election boards and that persons who had committed no offense were deprived of their liberty without due process of law.
Conspiracy to defraud the United States by corrupting the election is charged in the second count, which is based on section 37 of the criminal code, which was used in the dynamite conspiracy case here two years ago.
In brief the third count alleges that in furtherance of the scheme to defraud the United States, the defendants placed letters in the mails, and it is also based on section 37. The final count charges a scheme to defraud the gamblers and saloonkeepers of Terre Haute and in furtherance of this scheme a letter was placed in the mails.

LONDON POST RESENTS
IRONY IN AMERICAN NOTE

LONDON, April 7 (Wednesday).—The Post, in an editorial, says of the American reply to the British note: "It is cordially conceived and is phrased in lucid, moderate and logical terms."
Reviewing both notes, the Post regrets that Great Britain saw fit to plead that its action was necessary as a reprisal for the actions of Germany, adding:
"For the pretext was perhaps unfortunate. It laid open the British government to the frontal return of course, uttered by the United States that his majesty's ministers could not possibly be supposed to regard illegal action on their part as justified by illegal action on the part of others."
Continuing, the editorial laments the fact that the order neither squares with nor is a substitute for the Declaration of Paris and London or The Hague conventions, and says: "If it is to replace them the fact should be formally stated. So long as they are acknowledged by the British government, they provide, as the American note not obscurely hints, ground for actions for damages to be brought by neutral nations."
It will be rather odd, if in addition to the other expenses involved in maintaining peace, the public is expected to settle the long bill for compensation to neutral nations at the conclusion of the war. Such a bill, unless indeed the British proclamation is to remain a dead letter.

FRANCE HAS NO KICK
AGAINST U. S. NOTE

Says It Is Well-Reasoned Document; Allies Will Compensate Neutrals

PARIS, April 6.—The Journal des Debats in a long editorial commenting on the American note regarding the allies' blockade against Germany says it is a well-reasoned document and that France and Great Britain will be ready to compensate innocent neutrals for losses due to errors made by French and British ships. In concluding, the editorial says:
"Great Britain and France will certainly be in accord with the United States upon another point. They also are persuaded that whatever innovations in the rights of man are deemed necessary they should be in conformity at least with the spirit and principles that are the essence of the rules of war. For their part they have not infringed either in spirit or principle, but they are fighting with the enemy who recognizes no other rule than force and from whom any means to vanquish are good, even the most inhuman, even the most contrary to sacred laws."
"Why, instead of witnessing the combat as simple spectators, do not third parties throw themselves upon the highway robbers who have assailed innocent passersby? They would thus better render homage to principle than by looking from right to left to see if there is not something to pick up."

Russian Statement

PETROGRAD, April 6 (via London).—The following official communication was issued this evening:
"In the region of the West Nienem yesterday, there were isolated fights in the environs of Mariampol, Ludvino and Kalvaryia.
"In the Carpathians on the fourth, our advance continued with success on the whole front from the northern region in the direction of Harghita to as far as Lasko. In this forward movement we made great headway in the region of the Rostok pass, in the vicinity of which we captured an important sector of the principal chain and our advanced guard crossed to the southern slope of the chain and occupied the villages of Smolnik and Oroszovska.
"Attempts by the Austrians to arrest our offensive in further sectors of the Carpathians by counter-attacks failed, all these movements being repulsed with heavy Austrian losses. In the course of the day we took as prisoners in the Carpathians 20 officers and over 1,500 men. The retreating Austrians are burning bridges and provision depots.
"On the other sectors throughout our front there have been intermittent cannonades, fusillades and operations of the nature of reconnaissances.
"All the Austrian prisoners from Przemyel have now been sent to the interior of Russia. Altogether, they comprised nine generals, 2,300 officers and 113,500 soldiers. In addition, there were 6,800 sick or wounded persons whose condition prevented their transport."

Haly of German
Army Officers Are
Killed or Wounded

PARIS, April 6.—The press bureau of the war office gave out today figures compiled from different official German lists of losses of German officers. These figures show, the press bureau says, that of a total number of 480 generals in time of peace, 43 have been killed and 57 are wounded or missing.
"Out of 33,154 infantry officers, 3,604 have been killed and 13,149 have been wounded or are missing," the press bureau announcement says further. "Out of 7,063 cavalry officers 386 have been killed, 881 have been wounded or are missing. Out of 12,105 artillery officers 121 have been killed and 2,264 have been wounded or are missing."
"The grand total of officers of the German army at the beginning of the war including men in the active service, reserve and landwehr was 72,805 out of which up to March 15, 9,925 have been killed and 21,351 have been wounded or are missing. This makes the total losses 31,276."
"This shows that the grand total of losses among the officers of the German army is more than half their number on the day of the declaration of war."

RUSSIANS CAPTURE
33,000 AUSTRIANS

LONDON, April 7 (Wednesday).—Austrian claims of success in the Carpathians contained in official bulletins are denied in a semi-official Russian communication, according to a Petrograd dispatch to Reuters Telegram company. Assertions of victories for the Austrian arms, the Russians contend, are designed to pacify public opinion and revive "drooping courage."
The statement asserts that during the period from March 20 to April 3 the Russians took prisoners in the Carpathians on the front from Balgrod to Lasko, 37 officers, 111 doctors, 313 men besides capturing 17 cannon and 100 machine guns. About half of these captures are said to have been made on a front of 150 versts (100 miles).

Mother's Friend Before Baby Arrives

During several weeks of expectancy there is a splendid external embodiment of the mother's love.

In our "Mother's Friend" in which thousands of women have found the most unbounded confidence, they have found it and know. They tell of its wonderful influence to ease the abdominal muscles and how they avoid those dreaded stretching pains that are so much talked about. This safe external application is gently used over the skin to render it amenable to the natural stretching which it undergoes. The myriad of nerve threads just beneath the skin is thus relieved of unnecessary pain-producing causes, and great physical relief is the result as expressed by a host of happy women who write these experiences. It is a subject that all women should be familiar with as "Mother's Friend" has been in use many years, and is known and trusted by all who use it. It is a safe, reliable, and effective remedy for all who are in the Denver & Rio Grande railroad yard.

Invited to Attend

A meeting for the purpose of organizing a branch of the Drama League of America will be held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. The purpose of such a league is to create a desire for better drama in the city. This is done about by commending and encouraging good plays through study classes, reading circles and lectures. The Drama League was organized in 1910, since that time it has had a rapid growth and now it is extended to 45 states, England and Canada. Already more than 100 people have manifested their intention of joining the organization if it is established here. Mrs. Richard Campbell, president of the Denver branch of the league, will outline the work accomplished in that city since its organization.

The second meeting of the Pikes Peak chapter of the Colorado College Alumni association will be held about the table at Cassini memorial tomorrow evening at 7:15 o'clock. The dinner will be informal, and all graduates and non-graduates who are eligible to membership in the Alumni association are urged to be present. Those who plan to attend should telephone their names to Miss Lillian Johnson, Main 1897, not later than tomorrow morning. The meeting will be an "idea meeting" at which everyone is to feel free to express his or her ideas as to what ought to be done in regard to the work of the local branch. The program will be entertaining, and will include among other things songs and readings by some of the older graduates. There will probably be several graduates of other institutions present to tell of the work forwarded by their respective alumni associations.

FUTURIST MUSIC GOMES TO STAY, SAYS ZOELLNER

New Compositions Possess Two or
Three Underlying Themes Instead
of One; Springs to Hear Them

Futurist dances and pictures have made their appearance in Colorado Springs, but tonight for the first time in Colorado selections will be given here from the new futurist school of music by the Zoellner string quartet. "The new dances must go, some of them, and many of the exaggerated schools of painting, but futurist music has come to stay," said Joseph Zoellner yesterday at the Authors. "It does not lack harmony, as do many of the new pictures, but places emphasis on tone color rather than theme. Where before there was one underlying theme, now there are two, perhaps three, one goes and another comes. It is an effort to give the people pleasing impressions of emotion and color and life, a picture painted by music."

Played Only on Request.

The Zoellners, here, his and his, only play futurist selections on request, as they feel that there is no great demand for it as yet. They are in Colorado Springs on their way east from California. Tonight will be the first time futurist music has been played in Colorado Springs. There will be two selections. The Milhaud quartet and the Jap Brandts-Buys Romantic serenade, Op. 25. These two selections have been played in San Diego just once by the Zoellner quartet, Colorado Springs being the second town to request them on the tour.

The Milhaud quartet was written by the new French composer, Milhaud, and has been dedicated to Cezanne, a painter of the French impressionistic school. According to Zoellner, Milhaud is the coming composer of the French nation. Schoenberg, the new German composer, not being his equal.

The new futurist music has been described by critics "as pouring new wine into old bottles," and it appears to meet with general approval.

Difficult to Grasp Harmony.

"In some cases and perhaps more particularly in the Milhaud quartet the harmony is hard to grasp," said Miss Antonette Zoellner yesterday. "For that reason the Romantic Serenade by Brandts-Buys is more appreciated, the harmony being easier to grasp. The themes change so quickly that unless the people are listening closely they are unable to appreciate the music."

The old-time master composers laid great emphasis on the theme, according to the Zoellners, whereas the futurist composer makes the theme a secondary thing to his tone color. The new schools of painters sacrifice composition and often harmony to give a fleeting impression of life and color, but futurist music keeps its harmony and gives the people color and emotion.

"America is the future country for music," said Mr. Zoellner. "We can go to almost any town now and secure an appreciative audience. This could have been impossible several years ago."

The European war will raise the standard of music in the United States, according to Joseph Zoellner, Jr. "They are sending us their giants now," he said. "Perhaps there are too many for comfort, but they will educate the people and raise the standard." The Zoellner quartet has played before the Belgian king and queen and many other royal houses of Europe. The war, thinks Mr. Zoellner, will help do away with both the schools in painting and some of those in music which are superficial and worth but little in the eyes of real artists and composers. "I think it will quiet the people and set them to doing things worth while," he said. "It will be a good thing, too."

ORGANIZING RELIEF FOR ARMENIAN CHRISTIANS

Rev. Howard C. Ives Declares Conditions in Turkey Worse Than Now Exist in Belgium

The Rev. Howard C. Ives, financial secretary of the Apostolic Institute for Armenian Christians in Konia, Asia Minor, and at present acting secretary for the national committee for the relief of Armenian Christians in that country, is in Colorado Springs to organize a local relief committee. Dr. Ives reached here yesterday. Two years ago he visited Colorado Springs in company with Dr. A. H. Halgaxian, president of the Apostolic Institute, and gave an address at the First Presbyterian church.

The conditions prevailing in Turkey are distressing, according to Dr. Ives, and more than 80 per cent of Armenian Christian men have been drafted for the army, while their wives and children are left uncared for. Their condition, he said, is worse than that of the Belgians at present.

There are 2,000,000 Christian Armenians in Turkey, who need financial aid. It is the intention of the national relief committee to secure funds, and it is with this object in view that Dr. Ives is touring the country and organizing committees in all the larger towns. About $5,000 has been raised up to this time.

Dr. Ives carries a letter of introduction from President Wilson. The work of forming a local committee was started yesterday, and it is expected that the organization will be complete today. The distributing headquarters in Turkey is located at Marash, a town about 200 miles east of Konia. The funds are sent direct to this city, through the headquarters of the committee in New York.

An orphanage for Armenian Christian children is located in this town, as a branch of the Apostolic Institute at Konia. It is expected that the capital of Turkey will be removed in a short time from Constantinople to Konia. "The Armenian Christians need help very badly," said Dr. Ives yesterday. "They are being treated badly and conditions in Konia are terrible. They lack food and money, even more than the Belgians, whose misery has been relieved to a certain extent."

The Drama League was organized in 1910 since that time it has had a rapid growth and now it is extended to 45 states, England and Canada. Already more than 100 people have identified their intention of joining the organization. It is established here Mrs. Richard Campbell, president of the Denver branch of the league, will outline the work accomplished in that city since its organization.

The program will be entertaining, and will include among other things songs and readings by some of the older graduates. There will probably be several addresses of other institutions present to tell of the work forwarded by their respective alumni associations.

FUTURIST MUSIC GOMES TO STAY, SAYS ZOELLNER

New Compositions Possess Two or
Three Underlying Themes Instead
of One; Springs to Hear Them

Futurist music and pictures have made their appearance in Colorado Springs but tonight for the first time in Colorado selections will be given here from the new futurist school of music by the Zoellner string quartet. The new dances must go some of them and many of the exaggerated schools of painting, but futurist music has come to stay, said Joseph Zoellner yesterday at the Antlers. It does not lack harmony as do many of the new pictures, but places emphasis in tone color rather than theme. While before there was one underlying theme now there are two perhaps three (one goes and another comes). It is an effort to give the people feeling impressions of emotion and color and life, a picture painted by music.

Played Only on Request.

The Zoellners, pere, fils and fille only play futurist selections on request as they feel that there is no great demand for it as yet. They are in Colorado Springs on their way east from California. Tonight will be the first time futurist music has been played in Colorado Springs. There will be two selections. The Milhaud quartet and the Jan Brandts-Buss Romantic serenade Op. 25. These two selections have been played in San Diego just once by the Zoellner quartet, Colorado Springs being the second town to request them on the tour.

The Milhaud quartet was written by the new French composer, Milhaud and has been dedicated to Cezanne, a painter of the French impressionistic school. According to Zoellner, Milhaud is the coming composer of the French nation. Schoenberg, the new German composer, not being his equal. The new futurist music has been described by critics as pouring new wine into old bottles, and it appears to meet with general approval.

Difficult to Grasp Harmony.

In some cases and perhaps more particularly in the Milhaud quartet the harmony is hard to grasp, said Miss Antoinette Zoellner yesterday. For that reason the Romantic Serenade by Brandts-Buss is more appreciated, the harmony being easier to grasp. The themes change so quickly that unless the people are listening closely they are unable to appreciate the music.

The old-time master composers laid great emphasis on the theme according to the Zoellners, whereas the futurist composer makes the theme a secondary thing to his tone color. The new schools of painters sacrifice composition and often harmony to give a fleeting impression of life and color, but futurist music keeps its harmony and gives the people color and emotion.

"America is the future country for music," said Mr. Zoellner. "We can go to almost any town now and secure an appreciative audience. This would have been impossible several years ago." The European war will raise the standard of music in the United States, according to Joseph Zoellner, Jr. "They are sending us their giants now," he said. "Perhaps there are too many for comfort but they will educate the people and raise the standard. The Zoellner quartet has played before the Belgian king and queen and many other royal houses of Europe. The war thinks Mr. Zoellner will help do away with both the new schools in painting and some of those in music which are superficial and worth but little in the eyes of real artists and composers. "I think it will quiet the people and set them to doing things worth while, he said. It will be a good thing, too."

ORGANIZING RELIEF FOR ARMENIAN CHRISTIANS

Rev. Howard C. Ives Declares Conditions in Turkey Worse Than Now Exist in Belgium

The Rev. Howard C. Ives, financial secretary of the Apostolic Institute for Armenian Christians in Konja, Asia Minor, and at present acting secretary for the national committee for the relief of Armenian Christians in that country, is in Colorado Springs to organize a local relief committee. Dr. Ives reached here yesterday. Two years ago he visited Colorado Springs in company with Dr. A. H. Harkness, president of the Apostolic Institute and gave an address at the First Presbyterian church.

The conditions prevailing in Turkey are distressing, according to Dr. Ives, and more than 80 per cent of Armenian Christian men have been drafted for the army while their wives and children are left uncared for. Their condition, he said, is worse than that of the Belgians at present.

There are 2,000,000 Christian Armenians in Turkey, who need financial aid. It is the intention of the national relief committee to secure funds and it is with this object in view that Dr. Ives is touring the country and organizing committees in all the large towns. About $5,000 has been raised up to this time.

Dr. Ives carries a letter of introduction from President Wilson. The work of forming a local committee was started yesterday, and it is expected that the organization will be complete today. The distributing headquarters in Turkey is located in Marash, a town about 200 miles east of Konja. The funds are sent direct to this city through the headquarters of the committee in New York.

An orphanage for Armenian Christian children is located in this town as a branch of the Apostolic Institute at Konja. It is expected that the capital of Turkey will be removed in a short time from Constantinople to Konja. "The Armenian Christians need help very badly," said Dr. Ives yesterday. They are being treated badly and conditions in Konja are terrible. They lack food and money, even more than the Belgians, whose misery has been relieved to a certain extent.
